250,000 MEN AFFECTED BY SHOP STRIKE

Superior May Vote to Send Out 1,500 Shopmen on Strike Today

10,000 LAID OFF AT GARY

Railroad Traffic Will Be Seriously Affected Within 5 Days

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON—Officials of the six big railway shopmen's unions told President Wilson today they could not approve of his plan for the settlement of railway wage problems and asked the immediate granting of increases averaging approximately 25 percent which were demanded last January.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO—The strike of federated railway shopmen which entered its fourth day today and has already involved approximately 250,000 men, will soon spread to every section of the country, local officials of the union declared today, unless their demands are speedily met.

Ranks of the strikers were augmented by several thousand yesterday. Many others voted to join today. Fifteen hundred shopmen at Superior, Wis., were to quit work today, according to the president of the Superior local. Should the men quit at Superior and other railway terminals at the head of Lake Superior the movement of iron ore would be seriously hampered within a few days, railroad officials said.

The most serious tieup of industry caused by the strike was reported from Gary, Ind., where eight of the twelve blast furnaces of the U. S. Steel corporation were banked. It was said ten thousand men were thrown out of employment as a result.

The entire force of shopmen employed by the Wabash and the Lake Erie and Western walked out according to heads of local unions. Railroad officials said that traffic would begin to suffer seriously within five days to a week unless some settlement of the strike is arranged.

Every roundhouse worker in the United States may be asked to join the general strike of the Federated Railway Shopmen's union, according to information given out today at the Chicago headquarters of the organization. Plans for asking the assistance of roundhouse employees was said to be under consideration at a meeting of union leaders.

L. W. Hawver, president of the Chicago council of the Federated Railway Shopmen's union, said between 250,000 and 300,000 are out in the country and that the number is increasing hourly. He says 45 percent of the membership of the union has obeyed the strike order and predicts that before Wednesday night 50 percent will be out.

President Hawver declares that within a week the strike will tie up both freight and passenger traffic in many sections for the reason that every locomotive has to be overhauled and repaired after every trip to be kept in good condition.

Bad Arithmetic Causes Delay In This Wedding

A little flaw in arithmetic and the wedding was all off! This was the experience of Ferdinand J. Franke and his bride, Miss Frances Bailey, both of Madison. They took out a marriage license last Tuesday afternoon and Saturday afternoon presented themselves before Judge Henry Casson, all ready for the ceremony.

But alas! Five days must elapse between the taking out of a license and the wedding date. So they were married by the judge at his office early this afternoon.

FEAR FRESH OUTBREAK OF CHILD DISEASE

Health Officials Warn of Spread of Infantile Paralysis in State

Indications are strong for a recurrence of the infantile paralysis epidemic which three years ago wrought untold suffering in Wisconsin and other states, and cost thousands of lives. Milwaukee had a record yesterday of 49 cases and three deaths, and other sections reported sporadic but none the less serious cases.

The state board of health has a record of one case in each of the following communities during July: Marinette, Westfield, Burlington, Janesville, Grand Rapids, Fond du Lac, Racine township, Dodge county; Charlestown, Calumet county; Mukwonago township, Waukesha county; Mineral Point, and Jonesville, Iowa county.

Marinette, Burlington, Mineral Point and Jonesville each reported a death.

Every community in the state should be on guard against another visitation of poliomyelitis, the public is warned by the state board. Children are affected most, but adults are not immune. The 1916 epidemic left thousands of children with crippled limbs and the death list was enormous.

Definite knowledge of causes and modes of transmission of this disease is still lacking. As one preventive, however, experience points to the wisdom of keeping home and all other premises free from dirt and refuse, and of eliminating flies. New York city's policy three years ago was absolute cleanliness, and this cleanliness established to abate infantile paralysis had such a bearing upon other diseases commonly due to filth and insanitary surroundings that the death rate in the district where infantile paralysis was prevalent, including the 5,000 deaths from that disease, was lower than ever before in the history of the city of New York.

Numerous hospitals, housing nearly 20,000 children, were located in certain districts in New York where infantile paralysis was prevalent in the tenement and residence houses. The protection through cleanliness of cases of infantile paralysis resulted in every single child in them escaping the disease.

Local dealers handling Pisk tires are overjoyed at the return to the line of the popular Red Top Rubber. Question as to the authority of the men to go out arose and the men returned from all workmen on the Madison-Milwaukee division. Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul men did not go out Saturday, but action on this road is also pending on the outcome of a vote to be taken probably today.

Strikes are reported at Elroy and Hudson.

ASK MINIMUM WAGE DELAY UNTIL JAN. 1

George Kull and Others Make Arguments Before Industrial Board

A request that the minimum wage order which went into effect on August 1 fixing a minimum wage at 22 cents per hour in the state for women and minors be postponed until Jan. 1, was made by George F. Kull, Milwaukee, former secretary of the Wisconsin Loyal Legion and now representing the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association. A hearing was held by the Industrial commission.

Mr. Kull urged by postponing the order until Jan. 1 manufacturers would have an opportunity to adjust themselves, he said. He also thought that if the order was not postponed that some effort should be made to compromise pending contracts made on the basis of the present wage scale. A letter was read at the hearing from Ed. Schuster and Co., Milwaukee, protesting against any modification of the minimum wage order and any delay in putting the order into effect. Representatives appeared in opposition of the present order and for delay from the Chamber of Commerce of La Crosse and the Chamber of Commerce of Janesville.

Attorney Charles Rix, Milwaukee, representing the Enger-Kress Pocket book company of West Bend, said that his company was going on a piece basis and that it would require several months to determine what was a minimum wage for piece work. Rix declared that the minimum wage order had resulted in a general adjustment of wages in their plant.

Chairman George Hambrecht of the Industrial commission said that the commission was not going to prosecute technical violations.

Major W. H. Zuehlke, representing the Fox River Paper Co. of Appleton, said that the minimum wage order was now in effect in their plant. This plant uses a piece-work basis. He said that the girls made an average of 29 cents an hour; that some made as high as 42 cents an hour and that the lowest was 23 cents an hour.

Many of those who appeared at the hearing had special problems which they asked the commission to adjust. Herbert Chesbro, Sheboygan, appeared for the Hand-Knit Hosiery Co. The hearing will be concluded today.

Commissioner Korop indicated that he did not believe the commission had the power to order any delay in putting the minimum order into effect. He said that the commission was given power to fix a minimum wage and that when that was done, the order was in effect. It was even indicated at the hearing that an employee might maintain action in the courts for back pay on the basis of the minimum wage order, if any delay were attempted.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE FOR OCCUPANTS

Michael A. Conlin Car Driven by Morris Scott Strikes Street Car

THROWN INTO STREET

Scott, Robert Sullivan, Albert Pich and Ralph Dietrich in Car

Hedges cutting off the view, a street car and automobile collided in a terrific crash and Albert Pich, Robert Sullivan, Morris Scott and Ralph Dietrich, four Madison youths, probably all less than 15 years old, lay strewn about the road at the corner of Harrison street and Rowley avenue, bruised and bleeding but miraculously, all alive.

Three of the boys who are still confined to the hospital are reported much improved this morning. Albert Pich son of William A. Pich, 634 W. Washington Ave., was hurt most seriously, having received several deep cuts about the head and neck from the flying glass. He is at St. Mary's hospital.

Robert Sullivan who is also at St. Mary's is the son of Al. D. C. Sullivan, 441 West Doty street. He has practically recovered.

Ralph Dietrich Jr., son of Ralph Dietrich, 611 W. Dayton St., is reported much improved. At General Hospital this morning.

Morris Scott, son of J. S. Scott, 449 W. Milford St., who was driver of the car escaped practically uninjured and although taken immediately to the hospital, was soon released.

A picnic planned for the day, Morris Scott was asked to take the big seven passenger car down to the service station to get air for the tires, the bar belonging to his uncle Michael A. Conlin, 349 W. Milford St.

He picked up the other three youths and they drove to the West Rowley Ave. station for air, there, by having the benefit of a little ride.

After a short spin, they headed East on Rowley Ave. at what spectators claim was considerably in excess of the speed limit. Various estimates ran from 30 to 40 miles an hour.

The street car coming north on Harrison street is also said to have been running at a good rate of speed. Hedges on the corners served to cut off the view for both parties and in the hysterical attempt to apply the brakes, the street car plowed headlong into the automobile, completely wrecking it. The street car itself was also badly smashed.

The pavement some eighty feet back showed marks of where the automobile wheels had been locked by the brakes.

The accident occurred about 9:30 o'clock and all of the boys but Scott were unconscious when nearby spectators arrived to take them to the hospital.

At the time the street car conductor was so frightened he was unable to give details.

Residents along Regent street and Rowley avenue this morning say the accident positively marks the climax, that something must be done about speeding along those streets. If the situation requires a special motor cycle policeman along there at all hours, they demand it.

They say it is the usual occurrence at 1 or 2 o'clock at night to be awakened by the screams of joy riders as the driver dashes down the street at a speed which frightens them out of their wits.

COMPULSORY SERVICE FOR 19 YEAR OLD BOYS; REGULAR ARMY 510,000 IN PEACE TIME

Secretary Baker Transmits Program to Congress; Conscription in Event of War; Officers' Seniority Abolished

WAR STRENGTH 1,250,000

No Change in Existing Laws on the National Guard; Number of Boys of 19 Affected Nearly 600,000

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—Maintenance of one field army with a war strength of 1,250,000 men is proposed in a bill establishing a permanent military policy which was sent to congress today by Secretary Baker.

Plans for a permanent peace time army of 510,000 officers and men and a system of universal military training were transmitted to congress.

The plans were embodied in a bill which represents the policy of the war department with respect to the peace time military power.

3 Months' Training

Three months' military training for youths of 19 would be made compulsory and promotion of officers by seniority would be abolished. Secretary Baker said the war had shown this system of promotion to be defective.

Under the army's plan, youths would be subject to military service for two years after completing the course of military training and in the event of war the selective service act in force during the great war would become operative.

No change in the existing law with regard to the organization of the national guard and its relation to the regular army was suggested. Mr. Baker said it was assumed that the national defense act federalizing the guard would be retained in force.

Secretary Baker said in a letter accompanying the bill that the plan had not yet been referred to General Pershing, but that pending his return from France, it could be used as the basis for hearings which the senate military committee is to have before drafting legislation and establishing a permanent military policy.

"The bill as drawn," said Secretary Baker, "provides for a system of universal training for a very brief period, applicable to all male citizens with suitable provision for exemptions and deferments."

"It does not, however, provide for any reserve obligation, since it is unnecessary with a system of universal service in time of emergency. The period suggested for training is brief, but not too brief, it is believed, to secure a careful physical condition of the young manhood of the nation and the institution of such remedial measures as may be practical, nor too brief to militate the habits of orderliness, coordination and self care which proved so valuable in the recent training of men preparing for active military service. Nor is this period believed to be too brief to entail great advantage to the country should any future emergency require it to call for service."

Same as in Draft.

The plan for registering youths of 19 years is the same, with slight modifications, as that applied during the war under the selective service act. The bill provides for the appointment of local and appeal boards, compensation at the rate of $10 for every day of actual service by board officials being prescribed. Exemption from training would be given only to members of the regular army and navy, honorably discharged soldiers and sailors and members of the coast guard, marines actually employed in sea service and "persons permanently physically, mentally or morally unfit for any military service whatever."

Under such exemption clauses the average number of boys of 19 to be found qualified for training each year would be approximately 600,000. This number from the last annual class to have been trained would be held ready for immediate mobilization at all times.

EX-KAISER HURT BY CONSCIENCE?

White Book Shows He Threatened Separate Peace

BERLIN—The former German emperor's statement on Oct. 27, 1918, that he had reached an unfavorable determination to sue for a separate peace within 24 hours and to demand an immediate armistice, is one of the many interesting revelations of German war diplomacy contained in "The White Book."

The former emperor's decision to seek peace immediately, according to documents in his white book, he considered necessary because he believed the people both unable and unwilling to continue the war. His conscience also was said to forbid him to permit further bloodshed.

Reduce Amount of Currency is Plan

WASHINGTON—Without a record vote, the senate has adopted a resolution requesting the senate banking committee to report whether legislation to reduce the amount of currency in circulation was advisable as a means of reducing the cost of living. HEART FAILURE CLAIMED CAUSE IN WELL DEATH

Toohey Boy Did Not Drown
According to Report—May Start Investigation

The body of Ralph Toohey, 5 year old son of H. R. Toohey, 801 S. Brooks St., who was drowned Saturday night in a partly filled cistern at the John Faragher property being built at 1109 Erie St., will be shipped to Milwaukee this noon for burial.

Heart failure is said to have contributed largely to the child's death as he was rescued almost immediately after falling into the open cistern which contained about five feet of water. The pulmonologist, who ordinarily would have brought him back to life, failed utterly.

Backsightenedness was probably the cause of the child's misjudgment of distance which let him step in the open hole.

Reports that the cistern, built almost a year ago had been left uncovered, may lead to a coroner's inquest as there is a city ordinance requiring such cisterns to be firmly covered.

CHICAGO CALM; PROBE BEGINS

33 Dead and 306 Injured
Race Riot Toll in Life—
Select Grand Jury

CHICAGO—After the calmest night in the "Black Belt" for more than a week, work was begun today of selecting a grand jury before which will come the cases of white men and negroes who are accused of participation in the race riots.

The coroner has fixed the number of dead at 33 and the city health commissioner has found 306 people injured in the riots. He expressed the opinion however, that perhaps 400 or more who were injured in the riots never reported at hospitals.

The state troops had little to do during the night in the riot zone. Several thousand negroes who expected to return to work in the stock yards today, after nearly a week's absence on account of the riots must wait until unrest caused by the disturbances in the district has subsided. After announcing that the colored men would return to work today, superintendents of all the large packing plants decided that it would be prudent to hold the negroes at their homes for an indefinite period.

Car Materials in Studebaker Best

The type of material used to make up the chassis of the New Studebaker cars, according to Mr. M. F. Wollering, vice president of the Studebaker Corporation, in charge of engineering and production, is the very highest grade obtainable. He says that even the smallest bolt receives careful consideration and an individual material specification made of it. And it is for this reason that, at so many points, special steels, such as chrome-nickel, chrome-vanadium and carbon steels of an especially analysis are used, where they would be ordinarily overlooked by many engineers.

"The use of chrome-nickel and chrome-vanadium steels," says Mr. Wollering, "is made on parts where a combination of toughness, hardness, and exceptional fatigue properties are demanded. The physical properties are increased from 50 to 75 per cent over those obtained by the use of the non-alloy steels."

The Welton Motor Car Co. is the local distributor of the Studebaker car.

Mrs. Beckman

Nods, smiles and winks traveled hither and thither across the generously filled seats of Superior court room this morning only to reappear in sudden solemnity as the judge looked up, while the neighbors listened and chewed gum as the 1900 block back porch argument down Main St. Way, between Mrs. Harriet Fischer and Mrs. Mary Beckman was laid bare.

The case arose back in the early days of the machinists' strike when it was alleged that Mrs. Beckman had called Mrs. Fischer a bad name. Mrs. Beckman was at the time employed at the Gisholt Machine Co. and it was alleged that Mrs. Fischer was a friend of some union men who were striking.

Mrs. Lena Diggins and Mrs. Vida Sullivan were called as witnesses. Mrs. Beckman was adjudged guilty and fined $10 and costs.

Another strike case, that against Herman Marscheck, was carried over until September. Marscheck is accused of assault and battery with attempt to do great bodily harm.

Denounced

(By the Associated Press)
LUCERNE, Switzerland—"Before the winter sets in there will be a terrible spasm of rage and despair among the peoples of Europe in which the final remains of civilization may be totally annihilated," it was predicted by Arthur Henderson, the British labor leader, at the opening session of the international socialist conference here yesterday. Remarks of Mr. Henderson followed those of Otto Wells of the majority element of the German socialists, who declared German working men expelled from the socialists the creation of a real league of nations. He characterized the league organized in Paris without Germany and Russia as members, as a "mere pleasantries."

In alluding to the peace treaty during his address, Mr. Henderson declared the principal points of it ought to be subjected to immediate and thorough revision.

Condemnation of support of Admiral Kolchak, head of the all Russian government at Omsk by the entente nations, was expressed by James Ramsay MacDonald of the British delegation and Marcel Machin, French socialist leader.

Emil Vandervelde, Belgian socialist, gave his opinion that it would be impossible to reconstitute the international socialist organization until the question of war responsibilities was settled.

LIVERPOOL—Riotous crowds were driven from the streets of this city this morning by troops charged with fixed bayonets. The rioters filled the streets during the night and it was not until daybreak that the soldiers were ordered to charge. Employees of bus and tramway lines failed to report for work this morning. No notice of a strike had been given out but it is not believed that the movement was undertaken in sympathy with the policemen's strike.

HANDS OFF PLAN FOR HUNGARY

Allied Interference to be Only Request to Rumania
"Halt Army"

(By the Associated Press)

COPENHAGEN—Premier Clemenceau, replying to a wireless message from the Italian Military mission at Budapest declares that the supreme council of the peace conference does not intend to interfere in the internal policy of the Rumanian government and adds that Rumania will be asked to halt her forces on the line which has been reached and will not be asked to withdraw her troops to the line fixed on June 13 until the new government at Budapest has strictly confirmed the conditions of the armistice between Hungary and the allied powers, according to a Vienna despatch received here.

The Italian commander, it is said, has sent a reply to M. Clemenceau stating that the new government is prepared to fulfill the armistice conditions, as speedily as possible and that it requests the allied and associated powers to lend support by each power, sending one regiment to Budapest. It is suggested that this be done in such a manner that the movement of the troops should not partake of the nature of intervention but would be more of a voluntary demonstration.

A Budapest despatch received here reports that the Rumanian commander has notified the Hungarian military authorities that a Rumanian commission is on its way to Budapest to negotiate an armistice.

DYNAMITERS' REVENGE?

Police Hold Theory Act is Aftermath of Famous Mc-
Namara Trial Prosecutions

(By the Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Cal.—Oscar Lawler, formerly assistant U. S. attorney general, who was seriously burned yesterday in a fire following a bomb explosion which wrecked his home, has "a chance of recovery," according to physicians. They seemed certain of the recovery of Mrs. Lawler.

Desire for Revenge
The explosion was said by police to be the result of a desire for revenge by a group of dynamiters whom he prosecuted some years ago.

Deep burns covered nearly half of Mr. Lawler's body, physicians said. Mrs. Lawler's burns were of a secondary nature, but her sufferings were increased by a fracture of the clavicle sustained, it was believed, when her husband dropped her fainting form from the second story of their burning home. Awakened shortly before 3 o'clock by a terrific explosion immediately below the second story porch where they were sleeping, and seeing the home enveloped in flames, Mr. and Mrs. Lawler attempted to reach another sleeping porch to rescue their five year old son and his nurse.

Three Explosions
When they were cut off by the fire Mrs. Lawler fainted. Her husband took her in his arms and carried her through the flames to a window and lowered her body to an awning. From the awning she fell to the ground. Mr. Lawler then jumped. The boy and his nurse were rescued uninjured.

Three explosions were heard at the Lawler house. They were believed to have been caused by a bomb and two five gallon cans of gasoline. Parts of the bombs were found great distances away.

Beloiter, 100, Gets His Three Big Wishes

(By the Associated Press)

BELOIT—Beloit's oldest resident, George E. Dyer, passed his one hundred and first birthday quietly resting in bed at his home. With the coming of that day Dyer was granted three wishes most dear to his heart since he has been 100. The first of these was to see the war ended in favor of the allies, the second to see and to talk with one of the soldiers who had been at the front, and a third was to live to be 101. Friends celebrated the occasion with a little informal party. Mr. Dyer enjoys the use of most of his faculties.

Stomach is Quick to Upset When School Children Are Idle

VACATION days are days of over-eating and under-exercising for most boys and girls. They loiter around nibbling at light food, unconcerned whether the fruit is green or ripe.

The result is cramps, skin eruptions, "summer colds," constipation and diarrhea. The basis of such trouble is an upset stomach, and nothing will give faster and quicker relief than the well-known Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is just a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, a formula evolved some 30 years ago by Dr. Caldwell himself. Syrup Pepsin is now used by millions of people and is today the largest-selling liquid laxative in the world.

It is the mildest and gentlest of laxatives. It regulates the stomach and bowels so well that they can soon work normally again without the aid of medicine. And unlike the harsher physics and cathartics, Syrup Pepsin does not gripe or cause discomfort, even to a tiny baby.

A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can be bought at any drug store for 50c and $1, the latter the family size. A free trial bottle can be had by sending your address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 480 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

BEAUTY SHOPS UNDER LICENSE COMING YEAR

Managers and operators of beauty parlor shops in this state will be licensed on or before Jan. 1, 1920, by the terms of a new law of which Senator A. J. Pullen was author. A waiver clause provides that all such artisans who are engaged in the business in this state continuously since Jan. 1, 1919, may be licensed without examination, provided they make application before Jan. 1, 1920. The bill as originally passed fixed the time limit for such applications for Aug. 1, 1919, but this limit was extended five months in the revisor's bill which passed on the last day of the session.

Apprentices may be licensed or issued permits without charge.

Another last-hour change makes the license apply to the calendar year, ending in each case Dec. 31 following the date of the license. All licenses issued this year will expire Dec. 31, 1920.

The legislature placed this law's administration with the state board of health, where enforcement of the barber law is vested. The board will soon appoint three women examiners to conduct the examinations for license applicants not coming under the waiver act. A woman inspector of shops also will be appointed. Four regular examinations a year are required; and special examinations may be ordered when necessary. The board will adopt a code of sanitary rules to govern all shops. The initial fee for a manager's license is $15 and the annual renewal $10. Initial fee for operators is $2 and annual renewal $1. It is expected the work will be self-sustaining.

Managers must have an education equivalent to the eighth grade in the public schools, and managers and operators must furnish evidence of good moral and professional character.

Operating without a license, either by manager, operator or apprentice, is declared a misdemeanor punishable by a fine from $10 to $100, or jail term.

MILWAUKEE MAN
SAYS IT DID HIM
WORLD OF GOODMilwaukee Man Eats Better,
Sleeps Better and Works Better After Taking Tanlac

"I can now understand why so many people are praising Tanlac, for I have tried it myself and it has done me a world of good," said Max F. Cesars, a well known employee of the Martin Foundry and Machine Co., and who lives at 945 Ninth Ave., Milwaukee, the other day.

"For some time past," continued Mr. Cesars, "I have suffered a great deal from stomach trouble, and when I commenced taking Tanlac, I was in a very badly run-down condition. Everything I ate disagreed with me, and the sour, undigested food would cause gas to form so bad that I would be bloated up for hours at a time. Nearly every day I would have bad cramping spells. My appetite was so poor that I hardly ever felt hungry. Sometimes just the smell of food cooking, would nauseate me. Finally my entire system got in a run-down condition and I was hardly able to do any work at all. Then my nerves went back on me, and I couldn't sleep much, and would get up every morning feeling tired and worn out."

"Then I decided to give Tanlac a trial, and when I began taking it I had no idea that it was going to help me as much as it did. Why, my troubles have been so completely overcome that I feel like a different man entirely. I wish you could have seen the supper I ate tonight—a big steak and other things besides, and I feel as well now as any man in this town. I never had such an appetite in my life before. My nerves are in fine condition, and I sleep like a log every night, and when I get up every morning I feel fine and dandy, and can go out and turn off as big days work as any man on the job. I have gained back my strength, and am gaining in weight every day. Tanlac is a good medicine, and I never lose a chance to speak a good word for it."

Tanlac is sold in Madison by A. B. Luckey & Son, in Deerfield by W. A. Perkins, in Middleton by Dr. A. M. Teckam, in Sun Prairie, in Black Earth by F. S. Drake, and in Stoughton by O. N. Falk & Son.—Adv.

AT THE THEATRES

GRAND

How women who are approaching middle age often are called upon to battle girls of youth and beauty for the love of men is tellingly portrayed in "Choosing a Wife," the feature which will be shown at the Grand theater today.

THE FULLER

Romance and adventure, thrills and suspense abound in J. Warren Kerrigan's latest picture, "The End of the Game," showing today at the Fuller theater. Especially written by George Elwood Jenks for the popular star of J. D. Hampton productions, "The End of the Game" depicts the '49 romance of a Western gambler once a Virginia gentleman, and a delicate New England girl, who follows the Santa Fe trail in search of gold. In the new World picture, "Coax Me," starring June Elbridge, which will be the attraction at the Fuller theater tomorrow, there are three couples in love.

NEW STRAND

Dorothy Gish is appearing at the New Strand for the last times today in one of the best pictures of her career, since "Hearts of the World." This picture entitled "I'll Get Him Yet" shows Miss Gish as the daughter of a railroad magnate who is in love with a newspaper reporter and the comedy situations that result from their courtship are amusing in the extreme.

MAJESTIC

Olive Thomas, heralded by Harrison Fisher as one of the most beautiful show girls in America, appears at the Majestic today in her latest photoplay called "Toton." In this role of "Toton" Miss Thomas is said to have distinguished herself not only as a beautiful woman, but as a clever delineator of boy parts. In the rapidly moving series of events and tense situations another romance is lived, and the first German shell reaching Paris from the long range gun forms the climax of the story, and re-united, father, daughter and sweetheart.

J. Bull Shows Fleet
and His Fleet Only

LONDON—The important role played by the British sea service during the great war was commemorated today by a naval pageant on the Thames. The day marked the fifth anniversary of the mobilization of the British fleet. Plans for the event while giving recognition to the allied and associated powers, laid stress on the fact that this was a purely British occasion.

Days when the Thames was the "King's Highway" were recalled by the appearance of King George's royal barge. This craft was built more than 200 years ago for Queen Mary and King William and was richly ornamented with crimson and gold.

Watch the Little Pimples;
they are Nature's Warning

Unightly and Disfiguring Signals of Bad Blood

Don't close your eyes to the warning which nature gives, when unsightly pimples appear on your face and other parts of the body.

Not only are these pimples and spots disfiguring, but they lead to serious skin diseases that spread and cause the most discomforting irritation and pain. Sometimes they foretell Eczema, boils, blisters, scaly eruptions and other annoyances that burn like flames of fire, and make you feel that your skin is ablaze.

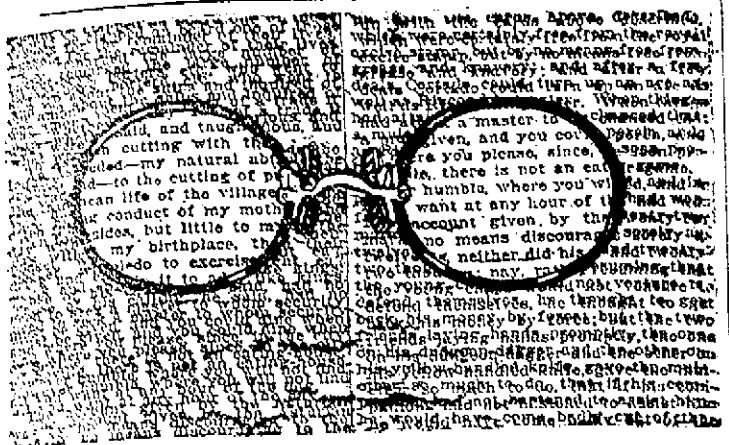

When these symptoms appear on any part of the body, take prompt steps to rid the blood of these disorders. And the one remedy which has no equal as a cleanser is S. S. S., the purely vegetable blood medicine, which has been on the market for more than fifty years. It is sold by druggists everywhere.

If you are afflicted with any form of skin disease, do not expect to be cured by lotions, ointments, salves and other local remedies, as they can not possibly reach the source of the trouble, which is in the blood. Begin taking S. S. S. today, and write a complete history of your case to our chief medical adviser who will give you special instructions, without charge. Write at once to Swift Specific Co., 260 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.—Adv.

SAY DEMOCRATS CANNOT BE HELD FOR HIGH COSTS

Geo. P. West Says Real Power Lies With Barons of Industrial System

By GEORGE P. WEST
NEW YORK—Politicians who attack the Wilson administration for its surrender to Big Business in the matter of the peace settlement, the Chicago packers, the Mexican oil controversy, the arrangements for international financing, the support of Kolchak, and the war-time price fixing policy would do well to consider whether they could have done any better.

Every day it is becoming clear to more people that the real power in a modern industrial nation cannot possibly be lodged in its political government as long as all the great natural resources and basic industries and public utilities, together with the credit system, are controlled privately by small groups of private-minded men.

This is no longer the charge of a radical politician but just the plain fact, which everyone realizes and admits who thinks about it at all. Control of industry and trade is control of the nation. And this control does not lie in Washington. The lines over which it passes run from steel mills and mines and packing plants and oil refineries and textile mills into financial centers. The men who exercise this control sit at the centers and hold the reins, and these cannot be taken away from them by any politician over night. And this in spite of the fact that these men know little or nothing about the mechanical processes and the actual details of organizing and maintaining production and distribution. They hold their power through their control of money, and through that control they wield absolute mastery over the really big and useful men, the manager and engineers and organizers.

Abest of all, and least useful, are neither the bankers themselves nor the managers and engineers, but the intermediaries who usually appear as chairmen of boards of directors or presidents, and whose qualifications are their skill in devising various gentlemen's agreements for controlling the markets and for fighting off or side-tracking interference from competitors or politicians. They are often lawyers, like Judge Gary of the Steel Corporation, Cardinal Wolsey of the Henry VII's of our big banking groups, Bechman-Hollwags to our Kaisers of industry and trade.

These Henry VII's and Kaisers hold their power and prestige, and especially in the East, by reason of an amazing popular superstition. They come very near being institutions, and their power often is hereditary, as in the case of J. P. Morgan, James Stillman, who succeeded Vanderbilt as president of the National City Bank, and the younger Rockefeller. When the veil was torn away from the New Haven scandal, it disclosed the late J. P. Morgan as utterly reckless and incompetent in his management of one of the greatest railroad properties in the world. He left it to Mellon, and Mellon made a hash of it that almost bankrupted New England. Yet the tradition survives that Morgan was a great financier and captain of industry.

It is these combinations for the control of life's necessities that are today gouging the American people through two methods—exorbitant prices, even on the basis of capitalization, and other prices that, while they may yield modern percentage returns on the capital stock, are still yielding these returns on stock so badly watered that the extortion is but thinly concealed.

If the enormous profits made by the Chicago packers during the war could have any justification, it would be in the use of these huge sums during the present period of readjustment for stabilizing the industry. Exports of beef have fallen off almost 100 per cent, and today the domestic beef supply exceeds that of last year by from 60,000,000 to 100,000,000 pounds per month. High prices during the war had discouraged consumption of beef to such an extent that the packers saw no hope of disposing of their surplus without cutting prices, and this they have done. Yet still beef is not sold, because the prices are still exorbitant. So the packers have cut down their buying of live stock, until hundreds of farmers are faced with heavy losses.

Here is the sin of monopolized production for profit, that a surplus of cattle must be sacrificed by the farmer who raised them while millions of families must go without beef. The packer will not materially reduce the margin of profit and so increase consumption because it is more profitable to curtail operations until the demand again forces high prices. In the meantime, let the farmers pay the bill, and let thousands of packing house employees go without work.

The country has a suspicion that if the excess profits of the packers during the past three years were used as a sort of revolving fund, all live stock ready for market could be absorbed at fair prices by the packers and all beef in storage could be sold at fair prices to the consumers. If private monopoly is good for anything, it is to stabilize production in just this way, by furnishing a large enough capital to tide over periods like the present.

The fact is that the public never gets the benefit of economies achieved through large scale production, when that large scale production is in private hands and in private control. In the steel industry, the United States Steel Corporation has effected enormous savings in costs through large scale production, which has permitted standardization and integration, the dove-tailing, without waste, of one process closely into another, from the mining of the ore in upper Minnesota to the most economical use of the last pound of finished steel.

What has the Steel Corporation done with this saving? Has it underbilled the so-called "independents" and reduced the price of steel to the buyer? Nothing of the sort! And strangely enough, honest politicians have done their share to prevent it, by passing the anti-trust laws. If the Steel Corporation charged only reasonable profits, it would drive so many "independents" out of business that the most reactionary federal court in the country could hardly acquit it of violating the Sherman act. Moreover, public prejudice against it would increase in spite of the lower price of steel, until like the beef trust it would free an irresistible demand for public control as the first step toward public operation. The Steel Corporation knows a better game. Instead of being a dangerous competitor to the less efficient, smaller, high-cost producers, it is their fairy god-father and protector. Judge Gary is exceedingly popular among the Corporation's "competitors," and they follow him like sheep.

The Corporation is careful to limit its production of steel to 40 or 45 per cent of the nation's output. It then uses its commanding position in the market to fix and maintain prices at a level high enough to yield a profit to the inefficient high-cost "independents." And nobody complains, because the independents are assured a profit greater than they could otherwise hope for, and because the government and the politicians still cling to the idea that they are rendering the public a service when they protect the existence of "competitors." As for the Steel Corporation, it much prefers to make exorbitant profits of 45 per cent of the steel business, making reasonable profits on 95 per cent, especially when, at the same time, it can keep up the fiction of competition and stave off interference from the government.

This ability of the big fellow to look after the little fellows while lining his own pockets and keeping clear of the anti-trust laws has been seized upon in industry after industry where processes are standardized and large scale production most profitable as the new business statesmanship. It applies only to those industries in which great combinations of capital, large scale production, and standardized methods are the key to success, rather than the initiative and enterprise of the individual. But there are an increasing number of such industries. This new strategy makes the old price-cutting tactics look silly. Keep your small competitors in the field! Hand-feed 'em! Make them happy! by maintaining prices at a level high enough to insure them against loss from their inefficiency or other disadvantages. And in return they'll stand between you and the interference of politicians. And your own profits will be enormous.

This is the final absurdity which we have been led into tolerating by our old notion that we could enforce competition in industries where large scale production and standardization are dictated by economy and common sense. There, in other words, the proper method

RUSS SOLDIERS MASSACRE JEWS SAY REPORTS

Work Credited to Anti-Bolshevik Faction of Odessa

LONDON—Semi-official Polish sources have received reports that General Gregorieff's troops, which are occupying Odessa, surrounded the Jewish quarter and began a massacre which lasted three days and nights. Russian soldiers of Gregorieff's command, it is stated, carried out the massacre.

Gen. Gregorieff entered Odessa early in the present month after severe fighting and a time was quoted as saying that he was ready to join the allies in a combined attack on the bolsheviks.

Cecil B. Harmsworth, British under-secretary for foreign affairs, said in the house of commons on July 8, that General Gregorieff was stated to be strongly anti-Jewish in his sympathies.

is the monopoly method, because monopoly is the logical and natural result of the application of these principles.

Here is the problem with which our politicians are face to face, and which they have scarcely begun to master, except for a beginning with the Chicago packers. It is the problem of high prices and curtailed production, of popular unrest and resentment, of undernourished and ill-clad children. Everything points to the necessity of facing the facts and applying new remedies looking to public control so drastic and comprehensive as to amount almost to public operation.

High prices and sabotaging of production by these private monopolists is only part of it. We have got to face the fact that no man sitting in the White House and no congress sitting at the capitol can run this country for the people so long as its credit system and its great basic industries, with the natural resources on which they depend, are privately controlled for private profit by men who recognize no public interest, no limit to their rapacity, except the limit of what they can "get away with." So long as they keep this control, any man whom we might put in the White House will have to go to them sooner or later and accept their terms for their cooperation.

MT. HOREB PUTS OVER 14-3 WIN

Winners Hit Hoven Hard and Essers Lose by Big Score

With "Scoop" Hoven in his usual form, three runs might have been enough to win for the Essers' Markets, but the young right-hander who has pitched the Madison nine to victory after victory in tight games all season, was nicked for 12 safe swats, including two triples and a home-run, by Mt. Horeb batters, who defeated the Essers 14 to 3 at Mt. Horeb, Sunday. Hoven pitched a 5 to 1 victory for the Bankers over St. Paul, Saturday, and the strain told.

With the score 5 to 1 in the sixth inning, Dickert hit his second single and scored his second run when Hank Beyer tripled to right field. Beyer scored on Hughie's single. This rally brightened the outlook for the Essers till Huset knocked a triple with two on base in the Mt. Horeb half of the sixth. An error and a single netted two more runs. The final blow-out came when Christenson knocked a home run with the sacks loaded in the eighth.

Beat Spring Green 1-0

Christenson hurled a good game for Manager Robertshaw, and his mates made only one error. Holm's miss of Hughie's fly in the sixth. The Mt. Horeb team has been playing pretty good ball this season, reports have it. Last Wednesday at the Arena celebration they defeated Spring Green 1 to 0. Franz Kleinheinz, Madison star pitcher, pitched for them in this game and knocked in the winning run with a three-bagger in the last half of the ninth. Rohr and Stintz for Mt. Horeb, and Schrank and Pederson for Spring Green were other Madison and university stars in this game.

Wade Hughie, former Summit pitcher, who was tried out by Manager "Chuck" Zach in the Mt. Horeb game, made good by getting on base four times, bunting out two hits, one a triple, and knocking in two runs. He will pitch for the Essers against the French Battery nine at the Madison diamond on Wednesday night. Hoven is scheduled to hurl for the battery nine.

Veteran Still Stars
Next Sunday the Essers will journey to Footville to play the strong team there which defeated the fast Janesville Lawrence Lunch nine in one out of a series of three games. Kelliher, captain of the Mt. Horeb nine, though 37 years old, is still in fighting trip on the diamond. He got two putouts, five assists, and figured in a double play at second, besides getting a hit his second time up. "Spot" Kelliher, camp boy, roofer, also deserves some credit for the Mt. Horeb victory, the fans claim.

O'Connell & Meyer played good ball and won handily from Sun Prairie, 9 to 0. "Scoop" Hoven tried to pitch his second game in two days and the Essers' Markets lost to Mt. Horeb, 14 to 3. The Madison Independents took second place in a hard 4 to 1 game with Waunakee.

CULVER HURLS SHUT-OUT BALL

And Northwestern Nine Cinches League Championship—Bankers Win 5-1

"Champions" of the Madison baseball league, was written after the Northwestern name when the railroaders defeated the Burgess nine 2 to 0, Saturday, for the sixth victory of the season. Culver twirled shut-out ball and so did Mayhofer but a pair of Burgess errors were responsible for the breaks of the game that gave the Northwestern nine two runs and enabled them to clinch the pennant. With "Scoop" Hoven on the mound the Bankers had a fairly easy time defeating the St. Paul team 5 to 1 in the second game. The Burgess and the Bankers are now tied for second place.

Culver, the champions' pitcher, who has won five games and lost two, was the star of the day, fanning 11 men and getting three hits. Ray Carey on the receiving end showed his old-time whip by nipping three runners at second. Mayhofer struck out 13 and pitched a steady game.

Fifteen St. Paul batters shifted the air against Hoven's pitching in the second game. Dickert, Coenen, and Kleinheinz smashed out two baggers and Bergh hit two singles for the Bankers. Pedder, who started in the box for St. Paul, hit Paltz, first man up, and walked the next three. Then Devereaux came to the rescue and only three runs scored but they were enough to win. Devereaux held the Bankers safe the rest of the game.

Two postponed games will be played next Saturday between the Northwestern and the Bankers and the Burgess and St. Paul. Northwestern is two games ahead and the pennant is clinched. Second place will hinge on next week's games, which will be the last this year for the league.

DON'T BE HOT

Keep Cool by Bowling a Few Games to Get in Shape for Next Fall—Alleys Open.

Here's relief from the hot weather. The first signs of winter cropped out Saturday when "Chuck" Rieder opened his Park bowling alleys and entertained Madison pinners in the first games of the season. "Chuck" reports a big crowd and says he will be open regularly now. The earliest league games, he says, are not scheduled to begin before September.

To Preserve Flour—Keep it in a dry place and keep it away from strong smelling foods to avoid spoiling.
To Clarify Fat—Set the fat in a small saucepan over the fire. Let melt and cook very slowly until the fat is still and no boiling is discernible, then strain through a cheese cloth. When cold it is ready for use.
Cross Stitch Initials—Instead of marking linen with pen and ink, rubber stamp or name tape, try working the initials in cross stitch.
Old Tooth Brushes—Save your old tooth brushes and use them for cleaning the wicks in your oil stove or for applying blacking to your shoes.

Chicago Car Cos.

Seek Two Cent Boost

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO—Application for permission to raise street car fares in Chicago to meet the increase of 17 cents an hour granted employees last Friday, was made by traction companies to the state public utilities commission today. The new rate asked for is eight cents for elevated lines—an increase from six—and seven cents for surface companies which now charge five. Surface lines also asked permission to charge an additional one cent for transfers.

Chicago Goes Wild

Whites and Blacks Clash—
Many Lives Lost in Riot

Another dark heavy cloud hangs over the heads of the Chicago people, and in order to clear themselves of this disgrace they must demand of the proper authorities that in ferreting out the guilty parties of this crime, no partiality will be shown—be they white or black and to avoid future disturbances of this kind the guilty parties must be dealt with severely.

Most fair minded people have felt that the part the colored people have taken in the war has entitled them to at least just treatment on the part of the whites. For those who question this—I want to call attention to this fact;—When the call came to fight for our country, the line was not drawn on the colored boy and when his number in the draft was called he took his place willingly in the line with the other boys to help save his and your country. Will you now deny him after doing his part the right to live peacefully in it?

In Order to Show No
Distinction

I shall agree to draw up contract in black and white, offering to build cottages on certain vacant lots in the city and agree to sell them with a small payment down.

To the first colored purchaser I shall offer to donate one hundred dollars for the colored church of this city.

COME ON WITH SOME ACTION, MR. WOLFE!

WE WERE greatly interested in the announcement made on Saturday by United States District Attorney Wolfe that he is going after the food profiteers.

Mr. Wolfe is a part of the machinery which the American people have come to know as the department of justice (or shall we say department of injustice?)

We hope that Mr. Wolfe is reflecting a purpose and a spirit that may become contagious in his department and that the governmental Cossacks and the army of sleuths who have been trailing the gossip and rumor of the land may now be turned into avenues that may serve more worthwhile purposes.

The habit of mind which Mr. Wolfe has been in during the past few years, however, reveals itself in his observations of Saturday. He reveals the policy of the department.

With the training that he has received in the past two years it is natural, as a member of the department of justice school, for Mr. Wolfe to look to the LITTLE FELLOW rather than the BIG FELLOW as the cause of the present situation. Mr. Wolfe has ten words to say against the farmer and the retailer where he has one to say against the packers and those higher up.

It is just the Wolfe attitude of mind that has permeated the entire department of justice that has been one of the big contributing causes to the present high cost of living.

The whole machinery of the department of justice has been ever alert and swift in execution where the little fellow has been concerned; but it has been mighty pale and anemic in dealing with the criminal and disgraceful depredations that have been committed on the people of this country by the powerful aggregations of finance and wealth.

The department of justice has dealt in everything except justice.

If the United States department of justice had been ON THE JOB in the last two years we wouldn't have such a deplorable situation as now confronts us.

If the department of justice has not lent itself to the campaign of terror that was fastened on this country and which suppressed public sentiment, the food profiteers would never have become so bold and so defiant of public sentiment as they have been. The department of justice, however, was used to suppress the feelings of the common people while the wishes of and desires of wealth and privilege have had full sway.

What, for instance, has Mr. Wolfe done to curb and discourage these profiteers in the last two years?

As a matter of fact he has, like all other members of his department, frowned on those who had the temerity to raise the question of profiteering. The department of justice lent itself to the campaign whereby it became a reproach or a sign of pro-Germanism and disloyalty to say anything of profiteers. Men have been indicted for raising the question.

Meanwhile the profiteers knew that they had nothing to fear from the department of justice and the gouging of the people has steadily become bolder.

A year ago farseeing men in this country sounded a warning on the tendencies that were being followed at that time in the financing of the war. These men contended that the policy of raising an excessive amount by bond issue as against direct taxation would be sure to bring inflation and that inflation would cheapen the American dollar and bring an era of high prices. These men contended that 80 per cent tax on excess profits should be levied and maintained that the proportion of raising war funds should be at least one-third by direct tax and two-thirds by bond issue.

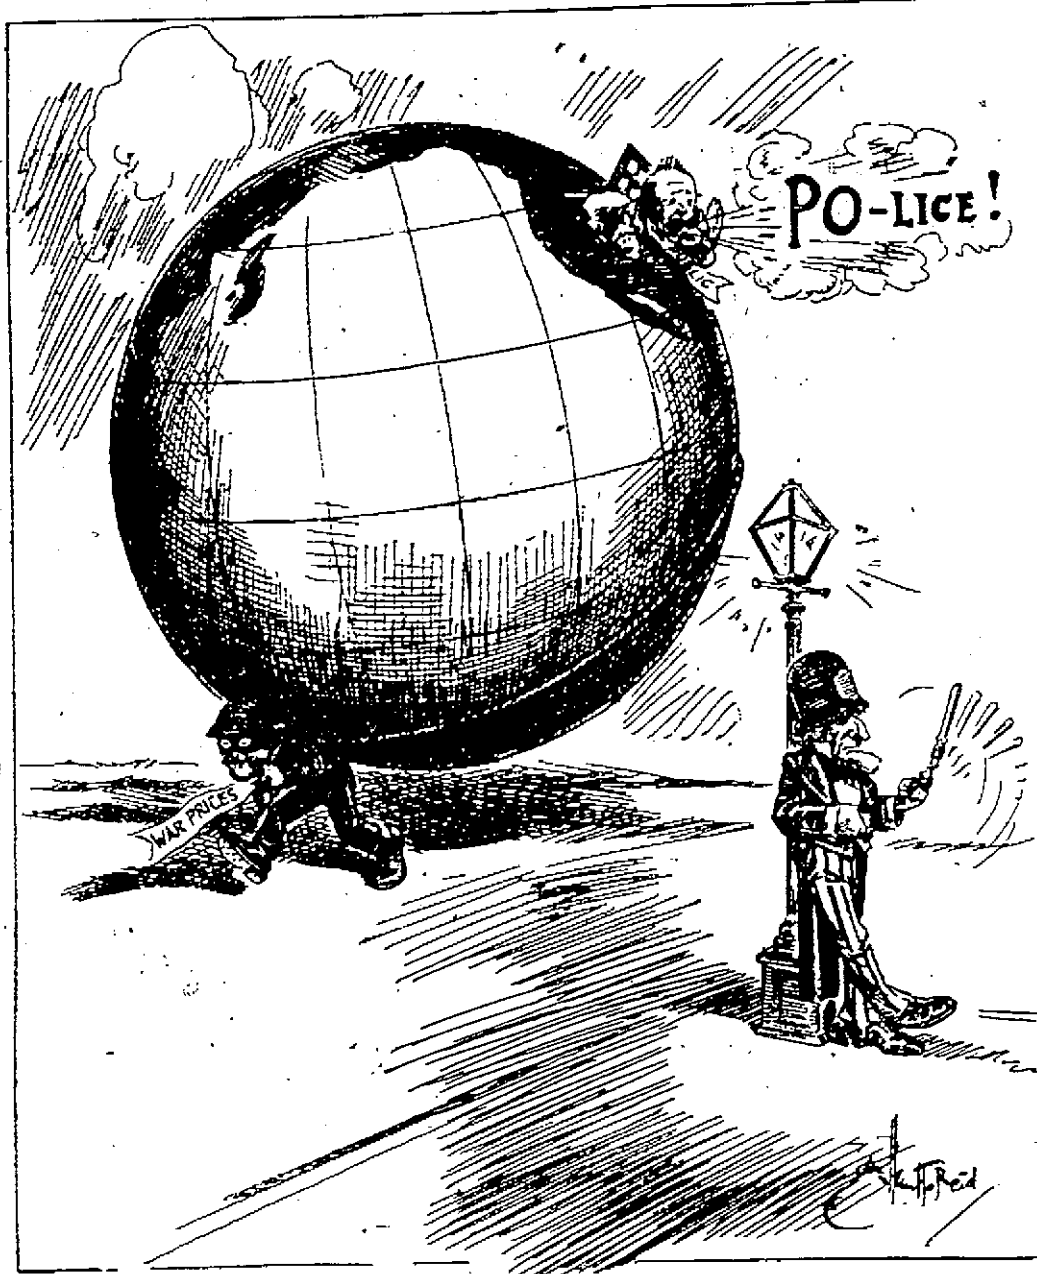

The men who made that contention were immediately set upon by the powerful profiteers and their wolf newspapers who immediately set advocates of higher excess profits taxes as being "against Liberty bonds." Our readers will recall the overpowering propaganda that was worked against the individual who could be in any way identified as being "against Liberty bonds."

Now who is right?

What is one of the big causes of high prices today? Inflation. We are having our troubles today because the American dollar has been cut in two. As one of the brotherhood presidents put it the other day a $5 bill will buy only what $2.15 did a few years ago.

And let us keep the record straight: When a few brave men were fighting to take a share of the millions which these profiteers were making out of the war to finance the war and thereby avert inflation and high prices the department of justice was lending itself to suppressing and indicting and convicting and intimidating men who were publicly execrated as being "opposed to Liberty bonds" and were stabbing the boys over there in the back." Remember that propaganda, based on the hysteria and prejudice and maliciousness that were so easily aroused at that time.

And so those big interests that wanted big bond issues

Dinner Stories

At a church conference a speaker began a tirade against the universities and education, expressing thankfulness that he had never been corrupted by contact with a college. After proceeding for a few minutes the bishop, who was in the chair, interrupted with the question: "Do I understand that Mr. Dobson is thankful for his ignorance?" "Well, yes," was the answer; "you can put it that way if you like."

"Well, all I have to say," said the prelate in sweet musical tones, "all I have to say is that he has much to be thankful for."

A Quaker attended the wedding of a young lawyer of his acquaintance, and on being presented to the bride, whom he had never seen before, he surveyed the young woman critically and remarked: "William, I think thy pride has shown more judgment in her choice than thee has."

That seemed rather a back-handed compliment for the bride until the old Quaker added: "Because it takes some penetration to discover thy good qualities; but hers can be seen at a glance."

There had been a quarrel. Everybody could see that the minute they came into the car. The woman sat with rigid jaw, her hands folded forbiddingly over her stomach. The man scrooched down on his spine and glowered at the signs across the aisle. The car wondered. Then there came a dead silence as the car halted.

ed to let off a passenger. Into the silence came the woman's voice:

"If it wasn't for me you'd be the biggest fool in San Francisco!" Then for the first time the man grinned, and the others grinned with him.

rather than war profits taxes had their way and the present inflation has come.

The department of justice, however, doesn't know the war is over. It is still busy prosecuting men who fought the profiteers during the war. It is still relentlessly following the men and women who had the courage to voice their opinions during the war.

The department of justice has had but little time to devote to profiteering. They haven't as yet obtained Exhibit A, —one single profiteer that has been sent to jail. And be it said that the profiteers of this country "interfered with the naval and military establishments of this country" hundreds of times over more than the obscure and unimportant personages who have taken most of the time of our governmental bloodhounds.

If Mr. Wolfe is really sincere he will move as swiftly NOW as he did in other directions in the last two years. We would commend the Sherman law to his attention. There is plenty of opportunity there to reach some of these big fellows who have been levying their tribute on the people of Madison and Wisconsin.

Why not a grand jury, Mr. Wolfe, to look into the depredations of some of these gentlemen dealing in interstate commerce? You have as much reason to suspect conspiracy and restraint of trade THERE as you have had for suspicions of conspiracy that have occupied your time and attention during the past two years.

Mr. Wolfe, if you want to make the people feel that you really mean what you say get some jury action on some of the REAL causes of high prices. Quit looking for LITTLE FELLOWS on which to lay the blame. Go after the BIG FELLOWS where most of the blame belongs.

And, Mr. Wolfe, if you really have the nerve to haul one big profiteer before the majesty of the law you will do much to dispel the all too prevalent opinion that you and your department have been buffeted by the powerful big interests of this country.

News Notes from Movieland

Because the Mack Sennett Bathing Girls were so successful in their tour about the country where they appeared in person along with the film, "Yankee Doodle in Berlin," comes this announcement. Mr. Asher makes it in behalf of Mack Sennett, that an arrangement has been made with Bide Dudley whereby he will furnish the book and lyrics for a forty-minute tabloid in which not only the Sennett beauties will be played up, but the whole battery of Sennett comedians, including Ben Turpin, Ford Sterling, Charles Murray and Chester Conklin will also appear in person.

The combined attraction will be known as Sennett's "Bathing Beauties of 1920." Each year the attraction will be staged with all the pretentiousness of a Broadway musical comedy and will return to the Broadway theater, New York, the following year being known as "Bathing Beauties of 1921."

The girls in addition to giving diving and swimming exhibitions in a mammoth tank on the stage, will double in brass, as it were, and also appear in the singing and dancing ensembles.

This tabloid will be unfolded in order to let off a passenger. Into the silence came the woman's voice: "If it wasn't for me you'd be the biggest fool in San Francisco!" Then for the first time the man grinned, and the others grinned with him.

You guessed it—a Sennett Bathing Girl.

three scenes, exclusive of the big tank number of the girls. One of the scenes will be a representation of the Sennett studios at Long Beach, Cal., showing how motion pictures are made, the ideas being presented in the form of an entertaining and laughable sketch that will be typical.

The costumes of the girls will be designed by Mack Sennett, who is responsible for the present outlay of beach raiment with the bathing beauties.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven are spending a week at their home at Ocean Park.

Lila Lee is at work on an original story by Beulah Marie Dix.

"All of a Sudden Peggy" has been started with Marguerite Clark, being directed by Walter Edwards.

Mack Sennett is directing one of his own companies.

Smiling Billy Mason and his wife began a twenty-week tour on the Orpheum circuit on July 21. After that is completed they go to London to appear in one of the large music halls.

Voice of the People

WANT REFERENDUM.
To the President and Members of the United States Senate:
The discussion of the Covenant of involved requires that the American people be given an opportunity to register their will on these documents which involve their lives and their interests for years to come.
We therefore urge that Congress immediately enact the necessary legislation for an advisory referendum of every voter in the United States on the ratification by our country of both the Covenant of the League of Nations and the Peace Treaty with Germany. Such a referendum cannot, without a Constitutional amendment, be made binding upon your honorable body; but such an expression of public opinion will unquestionably have enormous weight and will reveal to you, to the president of the United States, and to all the world, the desires of the people of this great country.
In our judgment such a referendum should not be held earlier than the middle of October so as to give full opportunity for the opponents and proponents of the Covenant and the Treaty to present their arguments for and against their adoption.

Respectfully submitted,
GEORGE P. HAMPTON,
Managing Director,
BENJAMIN C. MARSH,
Secretary,
(Farmers' National Council.)

ICE RUNNING SHORT
GREEN BAY — The local ice supply company in the town of Shawano has notified its customers that it will be unable to furnish them with ice after the week ending Aug. 2. A poor crop last winter and excessive demand caused by prolonged hot weather are credited with the early exhausting of the company's supply. The word "still" shall be stricken from the English language and the word "quiet" shall be substituted in all cases.
Noah Webster shall not be allowed to use the word "moonshine" in his dictionary and no poet shall use the word in any capacity. The word "moonlight" shall be used instead.
Nobody shall be allowed to refer to a cotton gin as gin. The full word engine shall be used.

LOOKING FORWARD
I gaze upon the sizzling streets; I hear the tramp of weary feet, And oh, but it is good to know They'll soon be trudging in the snow.

I see the little archin' lad, Who looks so hot, but then I'm glad To think e'er many days are gone He'll have to put his mittens on.

I watch the horses dragging by, Their load a wagon piled up high, And optimistically I say: "You soon will have to draw a sleigh."

The humid air; the scorching sun; The suffering that every one Must bear, at present, soon I know Without a doubt will have to go.

So now I try to pass the day In driving thoughts of heat away; I think of all the wondrous things That cold crisp winter weather brings.

An optimist is one who, having lost his suspenders, still believes his dignity will be upheld.—Arthur H. Rose.

A FACE IN THE CROWD

To meet:
And part:
Is not so severe
As having to part
Without meeting.

The people of London are blawsted discouraged with their telephone service, according to a recent cable. One business man became so jolly well angry at his telephone that he took his pistol out of his pocket and shot the instrument to bits.

What would these Londoners do if they had our telephones to contend with? They would not jolly well take pistols out of their pockets and shoot the blawsted machines to bits, but would pull them off the desks and throw them out the bally, bloomin' office windows. That's what we do, so 'elp us.

No matter what they do in London, we have got 'em skinned here by several degrees.
